LOUISIANA REPUBLICAN DELEGATION TAKES SENATE MAJORITY

BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA - The Louisiana Republican Legislative Delegation is happy to announce the voters of the 26th District have elected Republican Jonathan Perry to the State Senate. With Senator Perry's win, for the first time since Reconstruction the Louisiana State Senate will have a majority held by Republican members. "This is a special victory for Senator Perry, the Republican Party, but also the people of Southwest Louisiana who have in Senator Perry someone who truly represents their principles and values. As the leader of the Senate Republican Delegation, it certainly is satisfying to know that the hard work of a lot of good people over the years has now culminated in a Republican majority in the State Senate," said Senate Republican Delegation Chairman Danny Martiny. "I do believe the fact that we now have a Republican Senate, Republican House, Republican Governor, all Republican statewide-elected officials, and Republicans representing seven out of nine of our congressional delegation paints a pretty clear picture of the views and values of the Louisiana people."
